

We, the undersigned, believe that there is a fundamental right to produce and consume the foods of our choice. This freedom of food choice includes the right to consume raw milk and raw milk products. The consumption of raw milk is legal in all 50 states, yet current federal law prohibits raw milk for human consumption from crossing state lines. We should be able to obtain raw milk from sources outside our own states' borders if we choose. Congressman Ron Paul has introduced HR 778, a bill that would effectively end the federal ban on raw milk for human consumption in interstate commerce. We support the passage of HR 778 into law. We demand the termination of an unjust law that interferes with the exercise of our legal right to consume raw milk.
